Dear CASA Supporter,

I am thrilled to announce the selection of CASA of Travis County's new Executive Director, Laura Wolf. As an attorney and volunteer leader, Laura brings many years of experience working for victims of abuse and a sophisticated understanding of the legal system to CASA. Most recently, Laura has served as Senior Policy Director at the Texas Council on Family Violence, where she worked to increase Statewide funding to domestic violence organizations, and helped to develop innovative legislative initiatives to improve domestic violence services.

Other career highlights include coordinating a Capital Campaign that raised over 4 million dollars in two years as Chief Development Officer at Safeplace, and eight years working as an attorney at Brown McCarroll LP. Laura also brings a sophisticated understanding of volunteer service to CASA, as a former President and Treasure of the Junior league and a Board member for the Center for Child Protection, among other volunteer leadership roles. She has been successful in a wide range of settings – and CASA is lucky to have her!

As President of the board, it gives me great joy to be able to announce the arrival of someone as intelligent, hard-working, energetic and experienced as Laura.

Please mark your calendars to join me in welcoming Laura on September 20, 2007. We hope you are as excited as we are about the future of the organization, and want you to meet Laura and celebrate this wonderful new chapter at CASA. Laura's first official day will be September 10, but we already have her busy!

Thank you again for your support for your continued commitment to CASA.

Best wishes,

Denise Conway
CASA Board President
